Marriage Mentees

What is Marriage Mentoring?

HRC Marriage Mentoring is a relationship in which a more experienced married couple guides, supports, and encourages another couple in their marriage journey. It involves sharing Scripture, wisdom, offering advice, and providing a safe space for honest conversations about challenges, growth, and strengthening the marital relationship.

What is the Goal of Marriage Mentoring?

The goal is to help couples strengthen their relationship, navigate difficulties, and prevent issues from escalating into major conflicts. Mentoring can cover topics like communication, conflict resolution, intimacy, financial management, spiritual growth and maintaining a strong emotional connection.

Why Should I Have a Marriage Mentor?

Marriage is a journey and sometimes we need a little encouragement along the way. Sharing our life, struggles, challenges and wins with others, gives us the strength and determination it takes to build a strong marriage.

Marriage Mentoring isn't just for marriages that are in trouble, but it's about discovering how to strengthen and build a marriage that will last.

Learning from what your Mentors have experienced can lead you and your spouse to a fuller walk with Christ.

Scriptures on Mentoring: God calls us to mentor: Matthew 28:16-20; Romans 12, 1 Corinthians 12; Galatians 6:1-10; Mark 1:35-2:12.

What are the Mentors' Roles as Accountability Partners?

The Mentors guide the Mentees, encourage and support them and act as accountability partners to make sure the Mentees are progressing towards reaching their goals. Goals provide a framework for intentional decision-making, leading to a greater relationship with each other and with God.
